

botticino tecnico

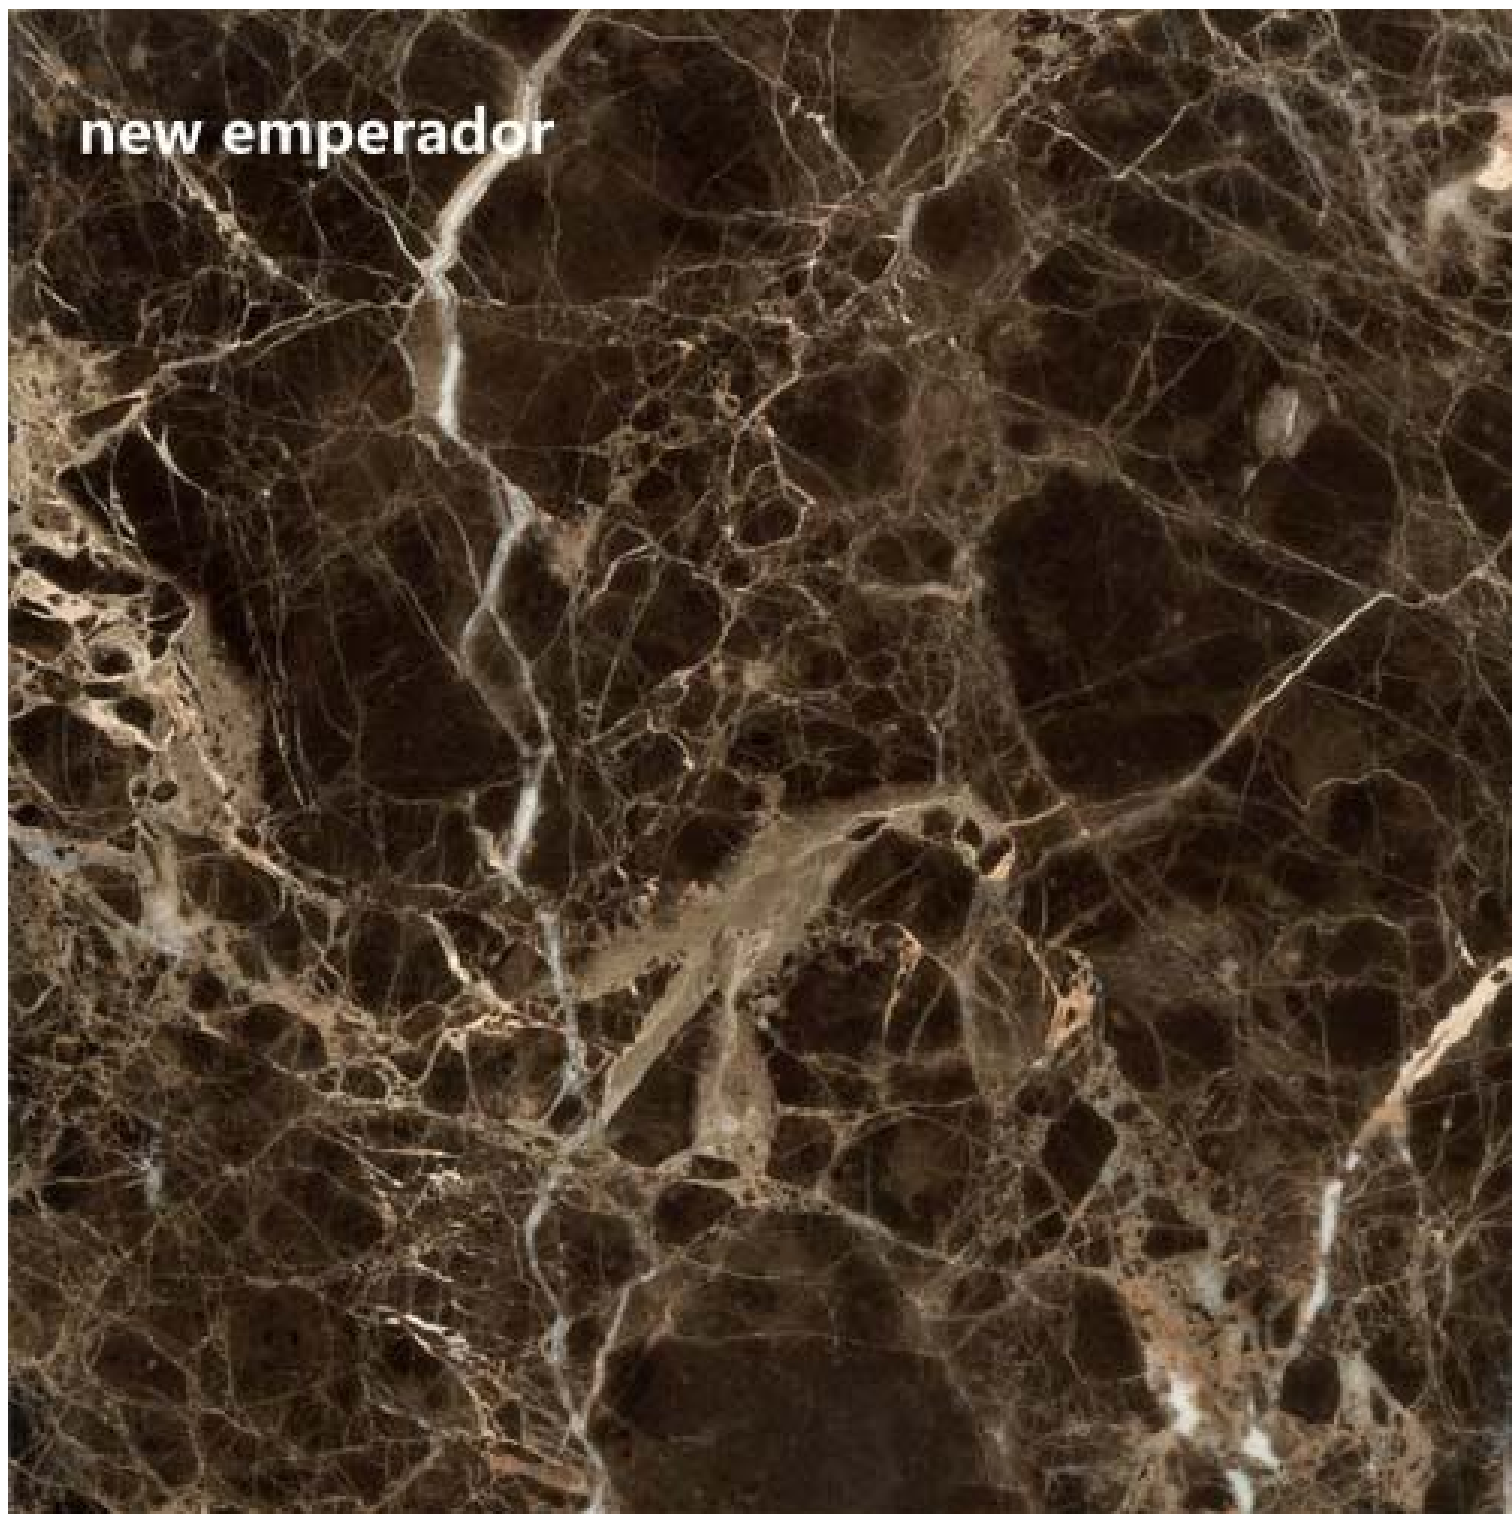

The image shows a close-up, top-down view of a light-colored, speckled surface. The texture is granular and uneven, with numerous small, dark grey and black spots scattered throughout. There are also some larger, irregular dark patches and a few small orange-brown spots. The overall appearance is that of a concrete or stone aggregate. In the bottom left corner, the text "tecnico icebeg" is printed in a bold, black, sans-serif font.
